“The problem of the 20th century is the problem of the color line.”
— W.E.B. DuBois, author, 1903

Wednesday, January 24
“Criminal Justice in the 21st Century”

Mark A. Nordenberg
Chair, Institute of Politics, Chancellor Emeritus, University of Pittsburgh

Edward P. Mulvey
Professor of Psychology, University of Pittsburgh, School of Medicine

Frederick W. Thieman
Henry Buhl, Jr. Chair for Civic Leadership and former U.S. Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania

Rich Fitzgerald
Allegheny County Executive

Rich Fitzgerald asked the University of Pittsburgh Institute of Politics to assemble a group of distinguished civic leaders to examine what could be done to make incarceration policies and practices in Allegheny County “fairer and less costly, without compromising public safety.” This presentation will provide an overview of the problems, the process, and the results, and include time for audience Q&A.

This lecture series provides an opportunity for faculty, students, and community members to engage in race-related discussions of mutual interest.
