

Center on Race & Social Problems

CALL FOR PILOT STUDY PROPOSALS

$5,000 - $10,000 Awards

DEADLINE: February 28, 2018

The Center on Race and Social Problems (CRSP) invites pilot research proposals that address current race-related social problems within any of the following eight areas of focus:

Health

Economics

Education

Interracial group relations

Mental health

Families and youth

Aged

Criminal justice

Over the span of ten years, CRSP Pilot Study Projects have had a 6.44% return on investment.

- Proposals must have race as the central focus.
- Proposals should specify research questions focused on race and then analyze the role of race.
- Inclusion of minority investigators as PI, Co-PI, or mentor is encouraged.
- PI must be a full-time University of Pittsburgh faculty member.